7,000 Strikers Close Trans World Airlines

KANSAS CITY, Mo. (AP)—The worldwide operations of Trans World Airlines, the nation's fourth largest air line, were at a standstill today as the result of a strike by 7,000 union mechanics.

The mechanics walked off the job — some of them reluctantly — Friday. The company said it would furlough without pay, most of its 12,000 other employees. Flights in progress were allowed to continue to their destinations, but no new flights were started.

The TWA walkout began as other union mechanics voted to end a 37-day strike against Capital Airlines, which operates east of the Mississippi River. Capital said it would resume its flights Sunday.

Capital was the second air line to reach agreement with the International Assn. of Machinists. Northwest settled with the IAM last Monday. Besides TWA, the union is engaged in contract disputes with Eastern and Northeast. The latter two have not been struck.

Another air line — American — is threatened with a strike by the Air Line Pilots Assn. An ALPA spokesman said in Chicago that a tentative strike deadline of 11:59 p.m. Tuesday had been set for 1,541 pilots employed by American.

As the TWA mechanics left their jobs, there was evidence that some didn't have their hearts in the strike. Fifteen of them, employed at the TWA overhaul base here, asked the union to remove Cliff Miller, chairman of the union's District 142, which embraces TWA mechanics. A spokesman said they asked the international to name a trustee to take over TWA negotiations from Miller. The spokesman said the request was made in a telephone call to Al J. Hayes, international president, in Washington.

In a recent election, 63.8 per cent of the members voted against the TWA's latest contract proposal, the union said. But an unidentified union member, quoted by the Kansas City Star as saying the balloting violated secrecy provisions of the union constitution. He said voters were required to write their names and addresses on the top half of the ballots, and mark their votes for or against the company proposal on the bottom half. Only the bottom half was placed in the ballot box, he was quoted as saying, but the two halves bore identical numbers and the top had to be turned in.

Miller and other officials were not available for comment.

Two Counties to Battle Boll Worm

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A series of meetings will be held in Mississippi and Craighead Counties to lay plans for stepping up the fight against the pink bollworm.

The new steps would be addition to emergency measures already put into effect.

The Federal Plant Pest Control Division said movement of cotton seed and baled cotton in the two counties has been restricted to designated oil mills and compressors. Another emergency step requires that cottonseed produced at the gins at Vail on the Mississippi-Craighead County line must be stored there for possible fumigation later.

Albert S. Pelt, an area supervisor of the pest control agency, was reported en route to Mississippi County from Chickasha, Okla. Pelt will help to supervise the control measures.

Russia Talks of Flight to Moon

MOSCOW (AP)—A Soviet moon-mapping expert, N. P. Barabashov, said today in Ljvestia that "it must be assumed the time is not far off when the world learns about the first moon flight."

His statement was interpreted here as a broad hint that Russia may shoot for the moon soon. He wrote:

"It is necessary now to prepare a detailed atlas of the moon's surface for the first space travelers, including the minutest details of height of mountains, depth of abysses, and degrees of inclination of crater walls, permitting good orientation for long trips on the surface of the moon without fear of getting lost among the enormous number of often very similar mountains."

Weather

ARKANSAS—Temperatures 2 to 6 degrees below normal. Normal maximum 44 to 46. Normal minimum 52 to 58. A little cooler early part of week, otherwise no important changes. Precipitation light or none.

TUNING IN ON SPACE—A 300-ton, dish-shaped antenna takes shape in the Mojave Desert, Calif., as workmen continue work on a giant radio telescope at Goldstone Tracking Facility. The instrument will be capable of tracking space vehicles by radio signals as far as four billion miles from earth.

Washington Calm About Berlin Crisis

By JAMES MARLOW
Associated Press News Analyst

WASHINGTON (AP)—Outwardly the world seems not too turbulent — but it's bubbling.

Washington can't be sure where or when it will bubble, even. For instance, the Eisenhower administration appears to be taking a calm view of the Russian effort to force the Western Allies out of Berlin. This hasn't reached a crisis stage yet. Maybe it never will. But it could happen suddenly.

Iran, with which this country is trying to negotiate a defense agreement, lies along the Soviet Union's southern border. Premier Khrushchev has warned Iran against signing. Trouble may pop there.

Iraq had been linked in a defense alliance with Iran — with U.S. backing but without any formal military agreement. Then a revolt by Iraqi army officers slew the Iraqi king.

This month administration officials expressed alarm over what they regard as a marked increase in Communist influence among backers of the new revolutionary regime in Iraq. Something similar could happen in Iran.

While the excitement over the Red Chinese bombardment of Chiang Kai-shek and Nationalist troops on the offshore island of Quemoy has quieted down a bit, the shooting is not ended. No one in Washington is in a position to predict what comes next.

This has happened — besides Iraq — in the Sudan, in Pakistan, in Burma, in Thailand. Earlier the military threw out King Farouk of Egypt which is now under an army man, President Nasser.

The military leaders may at the moment be giving their countries an appearance of calm or even stability. But what the Eisenhower administration doesn't know, and can't even guess about, is what comes after the military men or what turn they'll take.

It's possible the military will hold power in these various places for years. But it not, who succeeds them? Communists? Communist sympathizers? anti-Western forces, or men anxious to play friendly with Russia and cold to the West?

Military men are in control in several Latin American countries too. This week Secretary of State Dulles made a speech about the countries once held as colonies, more and more independence for countries once held as colonies.

But independence doesn't necessarily mean establishment of democracy or, if democracy is the starting-off point, that democracy will survive.

Uprisings Predicted in Red China

TAIPEI (AP)—Widespread uprisings against the communist system in Red China were predicted today by the top Nationalist expert on Communist affairs, Chen Chien-chung, who is head of the research and psychological warfare section of the Kuomintang. Chen, Kai-shek's ruling party, said the system was a delayed action bomb which would one day blow up the Communist regime.

Legislator Asks All Audits Be Made by State

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—A legislative committee was named yesterday to study a proposal which would compel all state agencies and institutions to accept state audits rather than audits by private firms.

The proposal was submitted at a meeting of the Arkansas Legislative Joint Audit Committee.

Rep. Dewey Stiles of Hot Spring County was named to head the study and report Dec. 18. Stiles made the proposal.

Among state agencies and institutions which were audited by private firms are the state Highway Department and the University of Arkansas.

"I am not mad at the university or anyone else," said Stiles. "I just think that if this committee is going to function it should audit all departments."

The audit group accepted several audits yesterday, including those of the state Training School for Girls, the Arkansas Commerce Commission, the Revenue Department's cashier division, the Arkansas Employees Retirement system, the state Board of Registration for Professional Engineers, and premiums for state, county and district livestock and horse shows.

Coleman Not a Candidate, He Declares

JACKSON, Miss. (AP) Gov. J. P. Coleman said today he was not his time to doing all he could to would not seek the nomination.

Coleman said in a statement handed newsmen he would devote his time to doing all he could "to promote the good name of Mississippi in the eyes of the nation."

There had been talk that the governor might seek the vice presidential nomination, although it had diminished some since the Democratic election victory that, observers felt, would lessen the Democratic Party need for Southern votes.

"Now that I have developed influence outside Mississippi which can be used for the benefit of our state," Coleman said, "the tigers of political jealousy are trying to destroy me at home."

"The trouble with Mississippi in the past, and there are a few agitators who are again trying to do it today, is that when a Mississippi begins to acquire some influence and some prestige in the remainder of the country they go to work at once to whittle him down and destroy his ability to exercise any leadership outside the state."

Coleman said yesterday he has kept his inaugural address promise that separation of the Negro and white races in Mississippi would still be intact when he left office.

Coleman, who still has more than a year to serve of his four-year term, said the state will maintain segregation despite the efforts of his political enemies who agitate to help themselves politically.

Home Furnishings Are Best Sellers

NEW YORK (AP)—Home furnishings and appliances led the parade of best-selling items in the nation's retail stores this week, according to a Dun & Bradstreet Inc. survey.

Merchants reported a noticeable pickup in consumer demand for TV sets, automatic dishwashers, double sets, bedding and chairs. Total dollar volume of retail trade in the U.S. was estimated by Dun & Bradstreet at unchanged to a per cent higher than a year ago.

Percentage changes in a year: areas: south, Atlantic up 4 to 8; west, north, central up 3 to 7; Rocky Mountain and West Coast up 1 to 5; New England and east south central unchanged to up 4; mid-Atlantic down 1 to 3; east north central and west south central unchanged to down 4.

Douglas Says Demos Would Backfire

TULSA, Okla. (AP)—Sen. Paul Douglas (D-Ill.) declared that if the Eisenhower administration chooses to use armed force to break a second blockade in Berlin, the action would receive support from him and other Democrats in Congress.

The outspoken legislator replied to questions by newsmen at a dinner Thursday night.

He said this country has a choice of two alternatives in the Berlin crisis — break a second blockade with an armored column or use the air as was done in the first blockade.

DOGGING IT—Three-year-old Great Dane, Dexter, leads on-lookers to believe that he's really going to start that plane in Columbus, Ohio. But it has a self-starter and the 180-pounder is just using the prop as a prop to show flyers that more humans can be replaced. The bounding enthusiast has put in about 40 hours of flight time with owner Bill Black. Dexter keeps in good trim on a daily diet of 3½ pounds of meat.

Between Us Chickens Is a Broad Statement in This Area, Thanks to Corn Belt Hatcheries

By MARY ANITA LASETER

"Just 'twice us chickens" is a pretty broad statement in our area these days. And I mean EGGactly that.

This is due in a large measure to the location of Cornbelt Hatcheries in Hope in February of 1952. From an employment of six or eight people in the beginning, Cornbelt and its related companies now employ about 100 people.

Why did this company come to Hope in the first place? It was just on a hunch that they stopped in Hope when looking for a location near both the Texas broiler area and Northwest Arkansas.

Cornbelt played a hunch and the hunch has paid off for them and for many people in this vicinity who have become part of the rapidly growing poultry industry. A recent outlook report from the Agriculture Marketing Service shows that the nation's poultry industry is set to continue at record levels in 1959.

An example of this growth is seen in these figures. When Cornbelt began here with only two incubators, the egg production was 24,000 a week. Today, the combined production in Hope and in branches at El Dorado and in Rusk, Tex., is 300,000 a week. In co-operation with this company, 85 farmers in our area now have hens producing hatchlings.

In January, 1957, another phase of this industry took shape with the forming of Southland Farms, Inc., which concentrates on the production of commercial table eggs. In agreement with some 60 farmers Southland Farms own the chickens and the eggs, and the farmers, and the farmers furnish the buildings, the equipment, and the labor. The farmers then pay for the eggs laid in compensation for Southland Farms assuming the market risk and paying the bills.

By January, 1959, this industry expects to be processing 40,000 dozen eggs per week for shipment to the consuming areas in and near Dallas, Ft. Worth, Houston, and New Orleans.

Regardless of "which came first, the chicken or the egg," both are vitally important to the accelerated poultry industry. During the past three years, the Sears Roebuck 4-H Club Foundation with the co-operation of Cornbelt has sought to help 17 local boys and girls through practical experience to find the answers to important questions related to this work.

Since Arkansas is the second largest broiler-producing state in the nation, let's look at our area's growth in that respect. From 800,000 broilers a year, this phase of the industry has grown to five million a year. And when millions are mentioned, they're not "chicken feed."

Independent farmers with the co-operation of Cornbelt have 120,000 broiler hens producing broiler hatchlings. From these farms and those owned by Cornbelt, the number of hens produced a year has increased from 1,500 to 2,000 to 250,000.

The company still has some 30,000 broiler hens in Illinois, but when they are through producing, they will be replaced by hens in Arkansas. Cornbelt has already moved the headquarters of its hatchling egg supply system from Joliet, Ill., to Hope.

Two years ago, Cornbelt began raising Registered Black Angus cattle on pasture land which had been developed with chicken manure. The cattle were needed to utilize the forage. It seems that one type of industry begets another.

That explains why a feed mill is

Social Register Ban Rich Trio

NEW YORK (AP)—The 1959 edition of the New York Social Register is minus the names of such personages as Cornelius Vanderbilt Whitney, novelist John P. Marquand and Georgia Rockefeller.

The latest edition of society's blue book, out Thursday, also dropped socialite Timothy Fales, who last week married entertainer Josephine Premice, a Negro. Fales' elimination, however, stemmed from his earlier divorce from Ellen Wood, former model.

Whitney was eliminated for divorcing his second wife, Eleanor Senie, to marry Hollywood actress Mary Hovard. Eleanor remains listed.

Marquand lost his listing as a result of his divorce from his second wife.

Miss Rockefeller, formerly of Greenwich, Conn., was dropped for marrying unlisted J. Hadden Rose of Lockport, Ill.

William Hostwick, heiress to a sugar refining fortune, was also eliminated. She married a physician, Elmer W. Davis.

Berlin Mayor Ready for the Commies

By SEYMOUR TOPPING

BERLIN (AP)—Willy Brandt is ready to take on whatever the Communists throw at Berlin.

"We've got strong nerves and we're ready for the difficulties ahead," says the handsome 44-year-old mayor.

Brandt is a fighting Socialist politician in the tradition of the late Ernest Reuter, mayor who saw Berlin through the Soviet blockade of 1948-49.

Some fellow Social Democrats think Brandt may one day be chancellor.

His lust for the political rough-and-tumble may stem from his background—voluntary exile during the Hitler years, escape from the Gestapo, marriage to a Norwegian beauty and political rise.

Controversy, centers around his activities in World War II. Some political foes accuse him of treason, claiming that he fought with the Norwegian army while a political refugee.

Brandt denies the charge. He says he put on the Norwegian uniform to escape the Gestapo hunt for him after Norway fell in 1940. He succeeded in eluding the Nazis and wound up the war as a Norwegian citizen in Sweden working as a journalist.

After Germany surrendered, Brandt returned to Berlin as press attaché in Norway's military mission.

He readopted German citizenship in 1947. He won a seat in West Germany's Parliament, and in 1950 became a West Berlin city legislator.

Brandt was a hard-headed practical Socialist then, and is now. Experience with Nazis and Communists has made him shy at too much state power.

In 1948 Brandt married Rut Hansen, whom he had met in Scandinavia. They have two sons. The Brandts live in a four-room apartment of a two-family house. Says slim, blonde Mrs. Brandt wistfully:

"The boys sometimes ask me how it is that the father of the children upstairs can come home for lunch."

Brandt isn't coming home for lunch noways — and rarely for dinner. He is too busy speeding around among his 2,200,000 people, telling them to stand fast.

Penn State to Ban Summer Vacation

UNIVERSITY PARK, Pa. (AP)—Pennsylvania State University has taken the first tentative step toward eliminating the traditional summer vacation. One aim is to fill the voids in a college student's education.

Dr. Eric Walker, president of the university, announced Thursday that as of next summer undergraduate courses will be given all year.

The students won't be required to attend summer school.

The summer program also is designed to help handle the sharp enrollment increase expected during the next decade.

Prowler Pulls Girl Almost Out Window

WARREN, Ark. (AP)—A 14-year-old Warren girl was pulled part of the way through a window at her home last night by a prowler. Warren police were told. The girl, Pat Henry, was asleep when the prowler forced a screen and reached inside the room, she said.

The girls' screams aroused her mother, Mrs. Gertrude Henry, who beat off the prowler and forced him to flee.

The girl was not injured. The prowler was described as a Negro.

West Germany Wants a Get Tough Policy

By REINHOLD G. ENSZ

BERLIN (AP)—West German officials advocated today a tough Allied policy on Berlin — the use of tanks and fighter planes if necessary to maintain Western links with the city.

The Soviet Foreign Ministry in Moscow summoned several ambassadors "to receive an important document" today. Its nature was not disclosed beforehand, but presumably it dealt with Nikita Khrushchev's drive to get the Allies out of West Berlin.

Chancellor Konrad Adenauer of West Germany said he had learned the document would deal with four-power occupation of Berlin. All nations that fought against Nazi Germany in World War II were to receive copies, he said.

Officials in Bonn, the West German capital, feared that a Soviet withdrawal from the occupation agreement would lead to Allied negotiations with the Communist East German regime. The officials warned that such a soft policy would increase the standing of the Communist regime, even though it was not officially recognized, and eventually result in the loss of West Berlin and in the killing of the hopes of 17-million East Germans for liberation.

Moscow has said it will give the East Germans control over Allied military traffic to West Berlin even if the other occupying powers do not agree. The West would thus have the choice of dealing with the East Germans or trying to ignore them on the 110-mile trip between West Germany and Berlin.

Some officials in Bonn favor ignoring satellite controls. They want the West to use tanks and fighter planes if necessary to force their way through East Germany.

There has been no indication the Allies are prepared to run this risk of touching off World War III. Instead, reports from Washington and London indicate the Allies are considering dealing with the East Germans on controls.

This would be done without granting recognition and by insisting the East Germans are only the agents of the Russians.

Waterfront Fires Damake $2 Million

PENSACOLA, Fla. (AP)—A raging fire destroyed more than two million dollars worth of waterfront facilities early today and apparently put the port of Pensacola out of business for a time.

The spectacular blaze — sending flames several hundred feet high and lighting up a large area — burned two piers and large warehouses down to the waterline. No one was reported injured.

A shipping authority estimated damage at between two and five million dollars.

One official commented that docks were the only ones here with facilities for oceangoing vessels.

Passenger Ship Damages Prop

S.S. President Wilson, with 500 passengers aboard, was in drydock today for replacement of a damaged propeller.

The liner, headed for the Orient, turned back just a mile outside the Golden Gate Thursday because of the propeller's vibration.

American President Lines officials said that apparently a submerged object struck the propeller but that divers were unable to guess what it was. No one aboard felt any jolt.

They expect the ship to resume its trip Saturday.

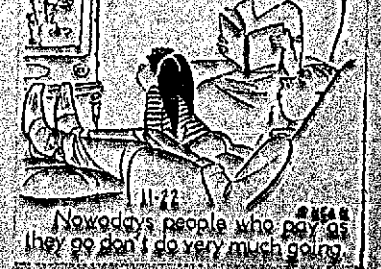

Fulbright Against Filibuster Change

WASHINGTON (AP)—Sen. William Fulbright (D-Ark.) returned from a trip around the world, said yesterday the South might have to accept a compromise on a move to make it easier to halt Senate filibusters.

Fulbright reiterated his opposition to such a move as a matter of principle.

The Arkansas senator said, however, there is strong support for the proposal, backed by Northern liberals. He said a possible compromise might be a rule permitting a two-third majority of senators present and voting to wind up debate.

News Briefs

TAIPEI (AP)—Communist-air-lift resumed firing fitfully at the Quemoy Islands today. It was another odd-numbered day in the on-and-off duel over the Nationalist-held offshore islands.

JERUSALEM (AP)—An Israeli army spokesman charged that Syrians opened fire again today on an Israeli reclamation area south of Lake Huleh. The area was the scene of a clash Thursday night. No casualties were reported from either incident.

AMMAN, Jordan (AP)—The United States has ordered $484,000 worth of railway equipment from Japan to renovate Jordan's single railroad, the U. S. Embassy announced today.

An agreement has been reached between the 200-mile railroad runs south from Syria through Amman to Naqurah, about 50 miles from Jordan's only port at Aqaba.

ALASSIO, Italy (AP)—Gen. Vittorio Ambrosio, 79, chief of the Italian general staff during the latter part of World War II, died Thursday.

COLOMBO, Ceylon (AP)—The new U. S. ambassador to Ceylon, J. Lampton Berry, arrived today on the liner Oranjo. Berry, a career diplomat, succeeds department store magnate Maxwell H. Gluck.

RANGOON, Burma (AP)—The first consignment of American arms and equipment for the Burmese army was being unloaded here today.

New Cardinals Show Growth of Church

By TOM HENSHAW
AP Religion Writer

The appointment of two more American cardinals last week points up the phenomenal growth of the Roman Catholic Church in the United States in 80 years.

Few people realize the United States is the fourth largest nation in terms of Catholic population. The church claims approximately 35 million communicants in the 49 states.

The figure is surpassed only by France, with 36 million; Italy, 48 million; and Brazil, 54 million.

Yet there were scarcely five million Catholics in the United States when the Most Rev. John McCloskey, archbishop of New York, was named the first American cardinal in 1875 by Pope Pius IX.

When Archbishop Richard J. Cushing of Boston and John F. O'Hara of Philadelphia don their red hats next month the United States will have four cardinals. Only Italy (29) and France (4) will have more.

Archbishops Cushing and O'Hara will be the 13th and 14th American cardinals. Twelve of them were born in the United States and two in Ireland—John Cardinal Farley of New York and John Cardinal Glendon of St. Louis.

Three of them served their church as cardinals for 30 years or more. James Cardinal Gibbons of Baltimore wore the red hat 35 years; William Cardinal O'Connell of Boston 33 years; and Dennis Cardinal Dougherty of Philadelphia 30 years.

Four New York archbishops have been cardinals: more than any other American archdiocese. In addition to McCloskey and Farley, they have been Patrick Cardinal Hayes and the current Francis Cardinal Spellman.

Other American cardinals have been George Cardinal Mundelein and Samuel Cardinal Stritch, both of Chicago; Edward Cardinal Mooney of Detroit; and James Cardinal McIntyre of Los Angeles.

The Most Rev. Amleto Cicognani is the sixth apostolic delegate to Washington to be named a cardinal. All five of his predecessors usually wore the red hat.

The first bishop of Boston, the most Rev. John Louis de Cheverny, who served from 1806 to 1823, later became a cardinal in 1826 when he was the archbishop of Bordeaux, France.

Italian-born Ignazio Persico, bishop of Savannah, Ga., from 1870 to 1873, also became a cardinal after leaving these shores. He was stationed in the Vatican when he was named.

Search Continues for Missing Scouts

TUCSON, Ariz. (AP)—The search for three Boy Scouts missing since Saturday in the snowy Santa Rita Mountains may end today.

"I don't see how the boys could possibly be alive in this freezing weather," Sheriff James W. Clark said. "If we don't find them in the next two days, there's not much chance of finding them until spring."

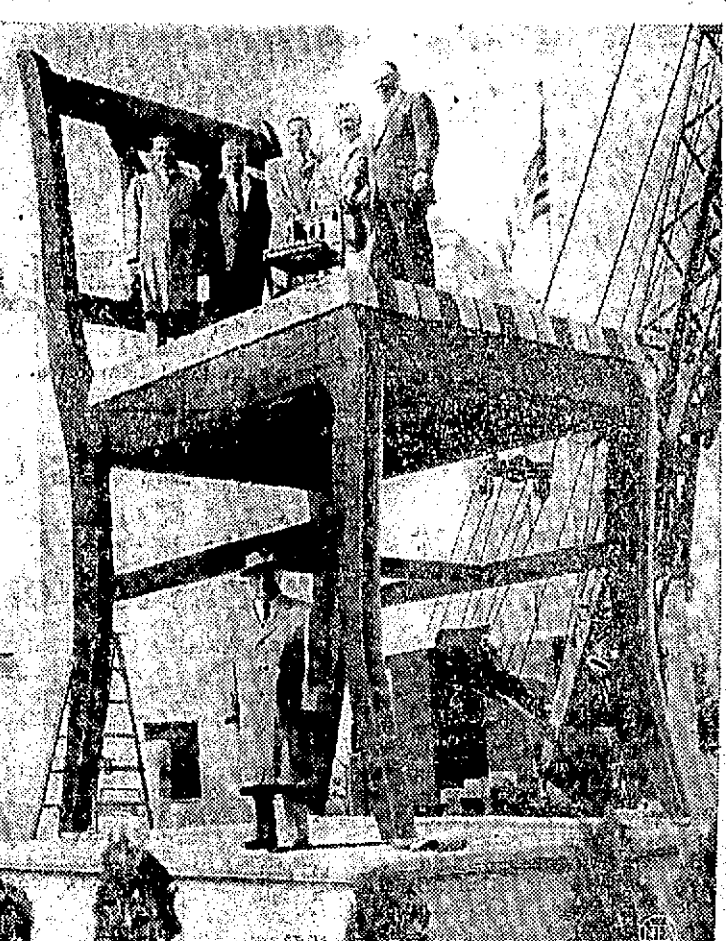

He said the organized search would end today unless new leads were found.

Missing are Mike Farly, 16, ABC-TV New Year's Eve; Jackie Gleason will conduct a band on the next Times jazz show on CBS-TV; Lucille Ball and Desi Arnaz will join the CBS-TV "Daddy Thomas Show" of Jan. 5.

CBS-TV will present on Dec. 7 "The American Jew: A Tribute to Freedom," a one-hour special report on the position of Jews in America. Among those who will take part are: Jeff Chandler, Susan Strasberg, Al Capp, Dore Schary, Richard Widmark, former Sen. Herbert Lehman and Dr. Bela Schick.

REAL OLD-TIMER—From acting with Lillian Russell to the Ann Sothern Show on TV is the acting-longevity record of 69-year-old Ernest Truex. His career encompasses 63 years, with 48 opening nights on Broadway and 10 in London, scores of silent and talkie films and 200 live TV performances. Now, with Ann Sothern, he's back in the type of role that made him famous—the wispy, henpecked husband.

SHRINKING MEN?—Hailed as the world's largest, this wooden chair on display at a Washington, D.C., furniture store makes the occupants appear only a few inches high. Made of solid mahogany, the piece stands 10 1/2 feet high, weighs 4,000 pounds.

Chapter 30
The logical place to begin the search was with the dress itself. It scarcely seemed possible that the paper would still be in it, but there was always the barest of a chance. The dress had been thrown down carelessly last night on the floor of Aunt Millicent's closet. If no one had thought to look at it, the paper might still be in the sleeve.

Aunt Millicent's door was closed. She turned the knob and pushed it open an inch or two, feeling nervous and guilty. She went inside and across to the closet, deliberately not looking at the bed, keeping her mind away from what had happened there last night. She opened the closet door and looked in.

Aunt Millicent's mender wardrobe hung on the rod. But the crumpled dress was not there. She thought miserably. They've found it. That's why they didn't have to worry about me. They knew I didn't have any more proof. I can't do anything to them.

She closed the door of the closet and looked around the room. She didn't think the paper could be there, but she had to go on searching anyway. And just as she had expected, the paper was not there.

She trailed directly back out into the hall, wondering what she should do next, and stood there for a minute or two, chewing on her finger and trying to think.

And she was still standing there when Amy came out into the hall with her dustcloth, heading back to the kitchen. She said, "Why, what's the matter love?"

"Nothing."

"You feel bad, don't you? All those bruises and cuts and things. And now wonder you ought to be in bed. That's where you ought to be."

Katherine said urgently. "Listen, Amy."

"Yes, love?"

"You know that dress I had on yesterday? It was all wet and muddled up. Have you seen it? Do you know where it is?"

"It's in your room, love. In your closet."

"But how did it get there?"

DOROTHY DIX

After 28 Years of Roving, Should Woman Follow Man Once More

Dear Dorothy Dix:
My husband is a chronic rover. He has never stayed in one place more than six months in the 28 years of our marriage. I dutifully followed him everywhere, hoping each town would be the Mecca he sought. Somehow I managed to bring up two children along with all this roaming. A year ago we reached a very pretty and friendly city, and I devoutly hoped this would be "it." The children fell in love and married — both happily. I got a job and for the first time in 28 years I was contented. Too bad the feeling couldn't have extended to the man of the house but it didn't. Last week he quit his job and said he had heard of something better a few hundred miles away. For once I didn't start back at the drop of that familiar announcement. And I'm not sure I'm going to, I like it here. My daughter expects a baby and since this is a strange town, I think I ought to stick around. Should I or is it my place to follow my husband? — Foot Weary.

Dear F. W.: By now you could qualify as a tourist guide in any city of North America. Stay put for a while, at least. Just for the novelty. Tell your wandering husband you'll be along later — if you can find him. I suspect you have a bit of the adventurer in you too, and I doubt if the quiet, small city life will suit you for long. After the new baby is launched, you'll doubtless be glad to take to the road again.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I have three cousins who frequently stay overnight with us. Their eating habits are shocking. They chew with their mouths open slurp their milk and make every mealtime sound like a rock 'n' roll record. Is it proper to correct them? — Disgusted.

Dear Disgusted: People who correct others, particularly relatives, automatically set themselves up as superiors and are immediately disliked unless the corrected ones are very reasonable people. Learn to endure the minor faults of others. That's part of life.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
We're a group of young couples who spend quite a bit of time together, going to movies, theatres, club affairs etc. We're a pleasant, congenial group, except for one man. He has an "affectionate" nature and pays too much attention to wives other than his own. The girls and their husbands are constantly embarrassed by him — W. H.

Dear W. H.: It's up to the husbands in the group to gang up on the exhibitionist and make him cut out his cute tricks. This is no time for tact. Why should one bore spoil a nice group? If he's lost in strong, masculine talk, he'll stay in line.

Dear Dorothy Dix:
I adore a boy in my class. We have many things in common: for instance, we love sports, animals and are both left handed. Do you think he will learn to like me? — Beverly.

Dear Beverly: Each of you also have one head, two arms and two legs, but all you really need to share is one spark of that indefinable thing called "attraction." You can use the southpaw angle to further the friendship. Ask him how he manages to handle sports equipment, for example.

chairman, was introduced and she spoke on "Chrysanthemums." In her talk she emphasized four points: history, popularity, types and propagation.

During the social hour, year book covers were distributed and judged. Miss Carolyn Scott won first place and Mrs. Shelton won second.

Daily refreshments were served from a beautifully appointed tea table covered with a Madeira cloth and centered with an arrangement of yellow chrysanthemums and fruit in a willow basket.

Mrs. H. B. Rouse was a guest of the club.

C. W. F. Meets
At Church

The November meeting of the Christian Business Women's Fellowship was held on Monday evening at the church.

Following a potluck supper, Mrs. Alfred Cummings presided in the absence of the president and conducted the business session.

Miss Elizabeth Francisco had charge of the program entitled "Widen Your Hearts for Coebern for the Shooked." An offering for missions was received. The meeting adjourned with the missionary benediction.

WCS Has Study

Fifteen members of the WCS of the First Methodist Church met on Monday afternoon at the church for the third study of the mission book "Isaiah Speaks."

Mrs. H. H. McKenzie, secretary of Missionary Education, presided and gave the devotional. Rev. Alford DeBlack presented the study and voiced the closing prayer.

Howard Harrell returned to Little Rock Monday after a visit with his sister, Mrs. J. C. Stogers and Mrs. R. S. Hamilton and Mr. Hamilton.

Mrs. Leo Byrd has returned to Dallas after a visit with her parents Mr. and Mrs. Bob Kirk.

Mrs. S. B. Scott has returned from Leesville, La., where she visited her son, Lt. Col. S. B. Scott Jr. and family.

Mrs. C. R. Gray of Newport has been the guest of Mr. and Mrs. C. R. Gray Jr. and children.

Mrs. J. C. McRae, Mrs. Claud Cox and Mrs. Mettie Robinson were Tuesday visitors in Texarkana.

C. G. Johnson, Bussy Lee and Paul Harris spent Tuesday in Little Rock and attended Grand Lodge at the Consistory.

Police Figured Baby Abandoned

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP)—Police thought they had an abandoned baby on their hands yesterday until the child's mother came along and told them differently.

The mother of the baby claimed him at the police station and told officers it really hadn't been abandoned at all.

Police took the child yesterday morning after a nursery operator told them a man left it with her the day before, saying he would return in a few hours. He never showed up.

When she picked up her baby, the mother said she hadn't been worried because her husband had kept the child away from home before.

She told officers she was glad to have her baby back, but she still hadn't located her husband.

Saenger Wednesday - Thurs.

London, the dog and Fleecie, the lamb star in the motion picture, "The Littlest Hobo", showing Wednesday and Thursday at the Saenger, as one half of an outstanding double feature. The other feature is "Snowfire".

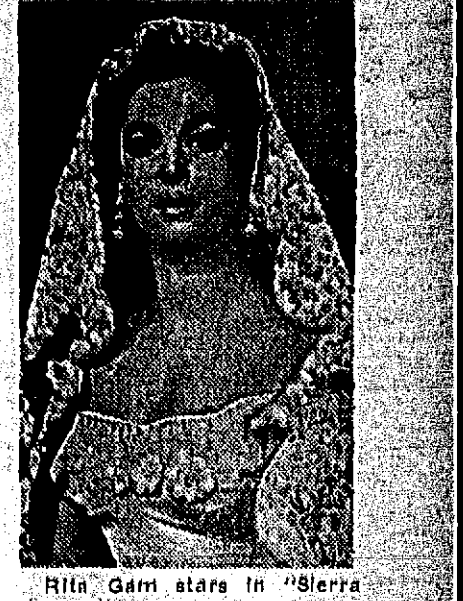

"Snowfire", the wild white stallion, is the co-feature at the Saenger Wednesday and Thursday. Filmed in radiant color, the picture has all the thrill of a Walt Disney hit. This Allied Artist picture stars Don and Molly McGowan.

School Construction Measure Brightens

WASHINGTON (AP) — A congressman who had no luck with school construction legislation last session said today its prospects are bright in the new Congress. "I feel confident such a bill will be introduced," Rep. Frank Thompson (D-N.J.) told a reporter. "I feel the chances for its passage are better than ever before." Thompson sponsored a bill last session to authorize 1½ billion dollars in federal aid to school construction over a five-year period. A tie vote kept it bottled up in the House Education Committee. In 1957 the House, on a 200-203 vote, killed a bill which also would have authorized 1½ billion in aid. School segregation and states' rights were issues in the fight.

Bobcats Romp Over the Prescott Wolves 59-7

By Charles Wylie

Victory No. 11 came easier than expected in Prescott Friday night when the Classy Hope Bobcats outscored the Prescott Wolves 59-7.

This was the most any Bobcat team has ever beaten Prescott. But before the game a very close contest was expected.

The Bobcats won the toss of the coin and immediately went to work.

On the fourth play from scrimmage David Watkins flipped a pass to Larry Vaughn who raced 42 yards along the sideline for a T. D. Watkins P.A.T. was good.

Graves kicked off, but after 3 downs Jim McKenzie attempted to punt for Prescott. There was a bad snap from center and McKenzie was downed on his own 33 yard line. After the Bobcats were penalized 15 yards on the next play Watkins decided to pass. He threw end Bill Blair a pass who stepped over for the 2nd Bobcat T.D. Watkins P.A.T. was no good.

Thurman kicked-off and Prescott took possession of the ball, but after 3 downs John Graves intercepted a Curly Wolf on the Bobcat 43. After the Bobcats had driven to the Prescott 34 in three plays Watkins again took to the air as he threw a pass to Eddie King who went over for the score. Watkins P.A.T. was good.

On the last play of the 1st quarter halfback Bill Butler intercepted a Curly Wolf pass and scampered over the point of no return for the fourth Bobcat T.D. Watkins P.A.T. was blocked.

After the 1st quarter was over the Bobcat alternates took over for the rest of the game.

In the latter part of the 2nd quarter Joe Duke intercepted a Prescott pass and raced to the Curly Wolf one. On the next play Duke went over for the score. Watkins P.A.T. was no good.

In the last minute of the 1st half Terry Thurman intercepted a pass on the Prescott 34. Three plays Joe Duke scampered over from the 14 for the T. D. Joe Duke's P.A.T. was good. The 1st half ended 39-0.

Both bands gave a fine halftime performance. Hope's halftime activities were highlighted by Brenda Hannon's flaming balloon.

In the opening minutes of the 2nd quarter Joe Duke intercepted a pass and was brought down on the 38. After two plays, Quarterback Bryan Smiley completed a pass to Bobby Erwin, who raced over for the TD. Joe Duke's P.A.T. was no good.

For the rest of the quarter the two teams fought to a complete standstill at 45-0.

The Bobcats struck pay dirt early in the 4th quarter with Ray Duke going over from the 24 and Duke's P.A.T. was good.

The Curly Wolves lone tally came when Lewis threw End Jim McKenzie a pass, who raced 40 yards for the TD Sullivan made the extra point.

Bryan Smiley took the kickoff and rambled 65 yards for the Bobcats last TD. Joe Duke's P.A.T. was good.

Coach John Pierce commented: "The boys came up here determined to win and they did." He also said that Nashville would really like to spoil Hope's perfect record.

Loses Life When

House Trailer Burns

FAYETTEVILLE, Ark. (AP)—

The body of Eugene Martin, 45,

a former state trooper employed

here as a nightwatchman, was found today inside his burned house-trailer.

Fire Chief Burl Skelton said the fire completely destroyed the interior of the metal trailer. He said the blaze apparently originated in a studio couch from an unknown cause.

Coroner Ed Watson said Martin, a bachelor who lived alone, apparently suffocated. However, the coroner said he had ordered an autopsy.

He said the body was found on the floor of the trailer at the entrance to his bedroom.

TALL CORN—This 15-foot, 6-inch stalk of corn was grown by Elmer Eigenrauch, a farmer in Okaville, Ill. Drawn by the stalk are Mrs. Adele Tomme, left, and Miss Rosemary Steinkamp. Eigenrauch grew the corn from a grain sent by a Mexican friend but attributes the height to rich Illinois soil.

Faubus Discusses Election Outcome

LITTLE ROCK (AP)—Gov. Orval E. Faubus said last night the Democratic victory in November elections was a clear sign that people "don't want the wishes of minorities shoved down their throats."

Obviously referring to integration, Faubus said problems should be solved by majority rule. He said the great question facing the nation is whether to have local and state rule, or that of "a distant authority."

The governor spoke at a session of the Arkansas County Judges Assn. convention, which closes today.

Bennett Rejects 3rd Party Idea

BATON ROUGE, La. (AP)—Arkansas Atty. Gen. Bruce Bennett rejected the idea of a third party in an interview here yesterday, declaring that if the South bolted the Democratic ranks "we would have no place to go."

Earlier in a speech to a civic club, Bennett said the recent elections demonstrated people have become "sick" of certain Supreme Court decisions.

He said the Democratic sweep in the November ballot wasn't so much a vote in favor of Democratic candidates as it was against the national Republican Party.

A Day on a Game Farm
Typical of the days of mid-fall the morning was foggy. Despite difficult driving conditions, we reached the game farm about nine o'clock.

As always, we were greeted up- roariously by the dogs in the kennel and our old setter trotted over as much to boost of his freedom as to get acquainted. The manager was waiting for us after a quick cup of hot coffee from the thermos, we assembled our gear, whistled for the dog and started out through the cover.

We had moved only a short way across the first clearing when the dog began to make game. One cautious circle was enough, suddenly he applied the brakes and came down on point.

There is something about a dog on point that does things to you. Regardless of how many years you have spent in the field, how many thousands of points you have honored, that first point of the day is a heartwarming experience.

Times and goose pimple run up and down your spine, your senses seem to take on an extra awareness, and your heart picks up its beat and tries to climb out over your Adam's apple. All concerned gamers react in this way; if they don't they should stop hunting.

This time was no exception. One glance at my partner, himself a veteran of all too many seasons showed that he too was far from calm. His eyes glowed with excitement and his face was slightly flushed under its cooling tan.

In accord with unspoken agree-

Easy Ed New Coach of the Pro Hawks

ST. LOUIS (AP)—Easy Ed Macauley might have a tough time living up to his name now that he is the new coach of the St. Louis Hawks.

He's working for fiery Ben Ker-ner, who has disposed of two coaches in less than a year while each had the team in first place. Macauley, former St. Louis University All-American and a nine-year veteran of the National Basketball Assn., was named by Ker-ner after the owner fired Andy Phillip from the coaching job.

The 30-year-old Macauley said he hopes to become a bench coach, although he will remain in uniform until the outdawn date Dec. 15. He plans no big shakeup of the Hawks.

Under Phillip, who had been in charge of the club for only 10 games, the Hawks were leading the NBA's Western Division with six victories and four defeats.

Kerner maintained Phillip was losing control of the players. Unable to contact Phillip by telephone, Kerner telegraphed him Thursday. "You have been relieved of your coaching duties as of now."

Phillip, a long-time Boston Celtic player and one-time member of the Illinois "Whiz Kids," was angered when he learned via radio newscast that he had been fired. "My good friend, Alex Hannum, told me it would be like this," Phillip said. Hannum coached the Hawks last year guided the club to the Western Division title and then to a playoff victory over the Celtics.

But Hannum and Kerper were unable to agree on a contract after the season ended.

In the only game Thursday night, rookie Elgin Baylor scored 37 points to lead the Minneapolis Lakers to a 121-102 victory over the Syracuse Nationals. The triumph snapped a six-game losing streak for the Lakers.

Baylor's outburst enabled him to take over the NBA scoring lead with 322 points. George Yardley of Detroit is next with 307.

Thought for the day:
One never knows himself till he has denied himself. The altar of sacrifice is the touchstone of character. — O. P. Tofford.

Calendar of Events
Saturday, Nov. 22
BeBee Youth Fraternity No. 412 will meet at Davis Chapel Methodist Church Saturday, Nov. 22 at 1 p.m. All members are asked to be present.

Club No. 4 of the Rising Star Baptist Church Mission Band will be in charge of concession in the Dinette, Saturday night, Nov. 22. Fish, cake and ice cream will be sold. The public is invited.

We settled ourselves in the welcome warmth of the club room to enjoy our sandwiches and coffee. In the afternoon the farm manager had a treat in store for us — a driven pheasant shoot. Directly behind the farm buildings stands a wooded hill, and a great many of the farm birds use this hill as a safe retreat. The farm manager showed us our shooting stations and then disappeared up the hill with two little cocker spaniels at his heel.

We did not have long to wait. We heard his shout of warning and out from the trees shot a big rooster, winging it for all he was worth for the safety of the swamp below the farm pond. What's more he made it, cackling derisively. I know that I shot a good six feet behind him. Driven pheasants fly deceptively fast.

Not all of the birds were so lucky, however. Six of them were added to the day's bag, all retrieved by the big setter who seemed to enjoy the shoot as much as we did. Bars cocked he would watch the wooded hill eagerly. Should we miss a bird, as we did all too often, the look of disgust he gave us all but curled our hair.

While the last birds were being retrieved for the table, we put away our gear and indulged ourselves to a bit of stimulating medication to ease our nerves after the rigors of the day's efforts.

At last, birds, dog, guns and gear were packed in the car. The tab was paid — a surprisingly light one, considering the fun we had and the beauty we took with us. And we settled down in the heated car for the long drive home. It is my honest opinion that nowhere in upland shooting can you find a more satisfactory and thoroughly delightful day of sport than on a well-run regulated shoot- ing ground.

CADILLAC

By Dick Turner

"Here's some cookies Mom sent over, Mrs. Powers. We had more than we could eat... the way they turned out!"

SWEET FIE

By Nadine Seltzer

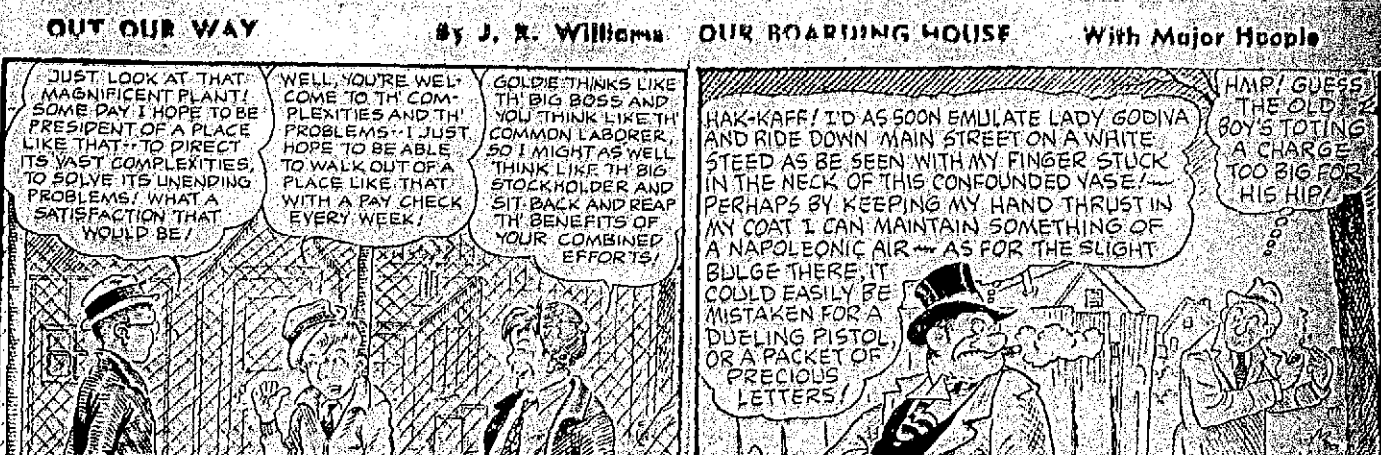

"You better watch out or my Pop will see you in court!"

SIDE GLANCES

By Galbreath

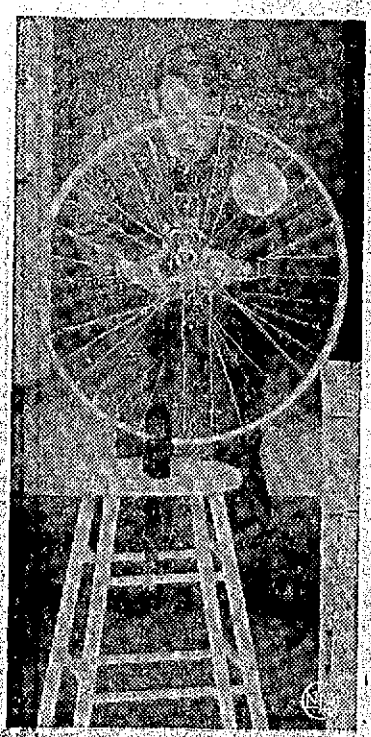

"In presenting you this little gift, I just want to say that we're so happy to have you for a past president!"

PRECIOUS — French dancer Noelle Adam's hair has an unusual sparkle, probably because of that half-million-dollar diamond she's wearing in Munich, West Germany. The setting is new but the stone is the "Nepal" diamond, found 400 years ago in Nepal. It has been sold to a New York firm.

SONG, ANYONE?—Nineteen-year-old France Grove holds a king-sized mouth organ in Paris, France, after she wound up with the unusual title of "Miss Harmonica."

WHEEL IS A WHEEL — Inventor gets set to shoot a piece of impressionistic art by Mercial DuChamp at a Frankfurt, West Germany, display. The title: "Bicycle Wheel."

FRECKLES AND HIS FRIENDS

THE STORY OF MARTHA WAYNE

Except The LORD Build The HOUSE They Labor In Vain That Build It

What a Morning

Surely this is the day of the Lord. His sun is shining, His birds are singing... all's right with the world. But how is it with you? Are you enjoying God's surpluses? Can you speak as David spoke in Psalms 23:5?... my cup runneth over. Do you attend Sunday school and the regular worship hour in the church of your choice? Could it be that you are in the midst of plenty and letting your soul starve to death? If so you have recourse in God. The way of the Lord is straight and poverty does not exist with Him. Why not wake up with this mother and son, look out the window and accept the challenge He offers you. Go to Sunday school and worship services this very day.

You In The Church
The Church In You
— form a combination for good. Every man, woman and child needs the influence of the church. So, come let us go into the house of the Lord. Let us support her program of service to humanity, be a faithful worker and attend services regularly.
